The LED technological evolution for the operating room:

OT-STARLED is the last new product of ACEM (Medical Company Division), Italian leading manufacturing company of examination, surgical and operating lamps. ACEM products are based on the revolutionary LED technology that gives the possibility to reach and produce a perfect illumination under every condition and guarantees the best working conditions of the surgeon and medical équipe in the operating room.

This new lamp offers clear brightness, IR-free light (i.e. it does not produce heat in the operating field and on the surgeon's head) and steady colour rendering over the time.

OT-STARLED can be supplied in combination with STARLED3 EVO and ACEM monitor too.

For further information, please contact:
